

I am on a fixed income. I must weigh every financial choice before making a commitment. High pressure telemarketing does not allow this to happen. I feel the consumer should have the power to limit ALL telemarketing should they fall in to this category. I do not consider myself to be part of the demographic telemarketing is trying to reach!